EXAMINATION QUESTION PAPER - Multiple choice

EXC 29531
Organizational Behaviour and Management

Department of Leadership and Organizational Behaviour

Start date:	07.12.2017	Time 09.00
Finish date:	07.12.2017	Time 10.00

Weight:	Pass / Fail
Total no. of pages:	31 incl. front page
No. of attachments files to question paper:	0
Examination support materials permitted:	Bilingual dictionary
Re-sit	Ordinary

Question 1

Organizational behaviour is:

A	a commitment to continuous improvementice
B	a relatively permanent change in behaviour that occurs as a result of work experiences
C	the study of individuals and groups in organizations
D	the attraction and continuation of a viable workforce
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 2

Which of the following provides insights which can help any organizational member deal with common workplace problems and opportunities?

A	total quality management
B	human resource maintenance
C	the contingency approach
D	organizational behaviour
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 3

Among the special characteristics of organizational behaviour are:

A	its stress on younger workers' behaviour
B	its emphasis on rigorous inquiry
C	its irrelevance to worker behaviour
D	its de-emphasis on an applied focus
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 4

The contingency approach to organizational behaviour believes that:

A	women typically outperform men in management jobs
B	emotional intelligence is the most important attribute of a successful manager
C	behaviour may vary depending on circumstances and the people involved
D	the purpose of an organization is to gather information
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 5

Hofstede developed originally four dimensions of culture. In the 90ties, a further so called fifth dimension was added. Mark the name of the fifth dimension among the alternatives below.

A	power-distance
B	long-term-short-term orientation dimension
C	uncertainty avoidance
D	individualism-collectivism
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 6

People's approach to ethics are influenced by the stance they adopt when confronting an ethical dilemma. Below three of these approaches from the textbook are mentioned along with one approach that is wrong. Please mark the latter.

A	deontological
B	consequential
C	character virtue
D	social responsibility
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 7

The word "Presenteeism" is mentioned in the textbook. Mark the right definition below.

A	The staff´s psychological presence at work
B	An average time ratio for staff attendance
C	A staff motivation ratio
D	Presenteeism is the act of attending work while sick
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 8

The creation of a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts is known as:

A	synergy
B	performance effectiveness
C	performance efficiency
D	value-added management
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 9

An effective manager is one who:

A	believes in saving money and time at every opportunity
B	helps others to plan ahead and control their outputs
C	focuses on task performance and human resource performance
D	follows rules and regulations to the letter
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 10

Organizational behaviour is of interest to everyone - not just managers - because:

A	it provides tools for reflection on our own experiences of work organizations
B	it enables us to shape others' emotions at work
C	it shows us how to exploit other people subordinate to us
D	it proves that management is a science
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 11

What specifies what the individual and the organization expect to give to and receive from each other in the course of their working relationship?

A	exchange theory
B	contribution/inducement theory
C	the offer of employment
D	the psychological contract
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 12

Assigning people to jobs is a part of:

A	planning
B	organizing
C	controlling
D	leading
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 13

Allocating resources is a part of:

A	planning
B	organizing
C	controlling
D	leading
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 14

Inspiring commitment is a part of:

A	planning
B	organizing
C	controlling
D	leading
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 15

Monitoring performance is part of:

A	planning
B	organizing
C	controlling
D	leading
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 16

An example of a re-engineered work value is:

A	the boss pays our salaries; keep the boss happy
B	to keep your job, stay quiet and don’t make waves
C	when things go wrong, pass problems to others
D	we are all part of a team; a good manager builds teams
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 17

Globalization is the process of:

A	understanding international business strategy
B	becoming more international in scope, influence or application
C	moving across borders to do business
D	acquiring global management skills and competencies
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 18

Knowledge management focuses on:

A	processes designed to improve an organization's ability to capture, share and diffuse knowledge in order to improve business performance
B	knowledge-based economics in order to make an effective contribution
C	effective management planning in order to increase intellectual stimulation
D	the psychological contract
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 19

The presence of demographic differences among members of a given workforce is known specifically as:

A	cultural diversity
B	workforce diversity
C	the global workplace
D	internationalism
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 20

Find and mark the correct definition of the glass ceiling phenomenon in international management.

A	A leader´s incompetence level
B	An employee´s incompetence level
C	The invisible barrier that stops women from attaining senior positions within organizations
D	The invisible barrier that stops applicants from attaining positions within organizations due to their political, ethnical and religious background
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 21

Which of these statements is correct (based on research findings)?

A	In Scandinavian countries employees prefer participative management styles
B	In Scandinavian countries employees prefer autocratic management styles
C	In Scandinavian countries employees prefer negligent management styles
D	In Scandinavian countries employees prefer macho management styles
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 22

Which one of the following is not a trend in workplace diversity?

A	more women are entering the workforce
B	there is a smaller pool of younger workers
C	workforce mobility is increasing
D	the size of the workforce is growing more slowly than in the past
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 23

In China, social obligations and tradition are part of deeply rooted cultural values. This is an example of Hofstede's:

A	high long-term orientation
B	low long-term orientation
C	high uncertainty avoidance
D	low uncertainty avoidance
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 24

In Hofstede's classification of culture, Singapore is depicted as exhibiting:

A	low power distance
B	high individualism
C	low uncertainty avoidance
D	low masculinity
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 25

Which of the following statements regarding generations X and Y is not true?

A	they expect to have one job throughout their working lives
B	they bring high levels of technical competence to the workplace
C	they are less focused on pay and security than earlier generations
D	they are increasingly concerned with quality of life issues
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 26

What is the definition of the expression "Casual work"?

A	Principles related to work conducted remotely from the central organization
B	Work where the number and schedule of work hours vary and there are little or no security of ongoing employment
C	The employee´s right to choose between work tasks within the job description that he/she wants to perform at a given time
D	The employee´s right to work within a given time frame when he/she chooses to
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 27

What does a contingency approach imply?

A	What does a contingency approach imply?
B	That there is a way to predict and control human behaviour and performance
C	That the approach is based on a recognition that human behaviour may vary depending on the circumstances and the people involved
D	That the approach is based on a given time frame
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 28

What is an effective manager? There are ten roles of effective managers. They are categorized in three major groups. Below four alternatives are mentioned. Your job is to mark the fourth alternative that is wrong.

A	Interpersonal Roles
B	Decisional Roles
C	Intrapersonal Roles
D	Informational Roles
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 29

Define the expression "Inducements".

A	What the organization gives to the individual on behalf of the group
B	Inducements are individual work efforts of value to the organization
C	The managers four functions, Planning, Organizing, Leading and Controlling, that they apply when they manage organizations
D	Types of intermittent reinforcement
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 30

What is a psychological contract? Mark the right alternative.

A	A letter of intent
B	A specification of what an individual expects to give and receive from the organization
C	An informal contract between employees defining how they should behave at work towards each other
D	An unofficial agreement of accepted behaviour between employees
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 31

The individual performance equation comprises:

A	individual attributes, organizational support and work effort
B	work effort, personal goals and organizational support
C	individual attributes, organizational support and personal goals
D	personal goals, work effort and individual attributes
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 32

Work effort is best described as:

A	willingness to turn up to work
B	willingness to work long hours
C	willingness to perform
D	motivation to work
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 33

A person's perceptual set is:

A	when one attribute of a person or situation is used to develop an overall impression
B	the assignment of one’s own personal attributes to other individuals
C	the tendency to find in another situation or person that which you expected to find
D	a person’s past experiences, personality and values influencing their perception
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 34

Projection is:

A	the assignment of one’s own personal attributes to other individuals
B	the tendency to find in another situation or person that which you expected to find
C	when one attribute of a person or situation is used to develop an overall impression
D	assigning an individual to a group or category and judging the person accordingly
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 35

A halo effect occurs when:

A	an individual is assigned to a group or category and judged accordingly
B	one attribute of a person or situation is used to develop an overall impression
C	one assigns one's own personal attributes to another individual
D	an individual overestimates the influence of personal factors on other people's behaviour
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 36

The fundamental attribution error occurs when:

A	we overestimate the influence of personal factors on the behaviour of others
B	we assign an individual to a group of category and judge them accordingly
C	we assign our own personal attributes to another individual
D	we behave in ways that will create and maintain desired impressions
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 37

Impression management is:

A	the assignment of an individual to a group or category and judging them accordingly
B	the assignment of our own personal attributes to another individual
C	an attempt to behave in ways that will create and maintain desired impressions
D	an overestimation of the influence of personal factors on other people's behaviour
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 38

The 'rusty halo' effect involves:

A	one attribute of a person or situation leading to a negative overall impression
B	one attribute of a person or situation leading to a positive overall impression
C	the tendency to find in another situation or person that which you expected to find
D	the assignment of an individual to a group or category and judging them accordingly
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 39

Which of the following is not included as a major factor contributing to perceptual differences?

A	characteristics of perceiver
B	characteristics of the perceived
C	situation
D	motivation
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 40

Stereotyping is:

A	assigning an individual to a group or a category and judging the person accordingly
B	overestimating capabilities of a group
C	underestimating capabilities of a group
D	treating every individual the same way
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 41

The use of stereotyping for judging people results in:

A	correct evaluation of differences between individuals
B	correctly identifying characteristics of a group
C	accurate prediction of job performance
D	inaccurate assessment of an individual's performance potential
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 42

Internals are_____ than externals.

A	more alienated
B	more rootless
C	better at learning and problem solving tasks
D	more dependent
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 43

Externals are_____ than internals.

A	less dogmatic
B	less authoritarian
C	less Machiavellian
D	less reliant on their judgement
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 44

The nomothetic view of personality:

A	believes that an individual’s personality emerges and develops with experience
B	seeks to identify the ways in which an individual's personality varies from others
C	gives stress to an individual’s childhood experience in determining personality
D	believes that we behave in ways that create and maintain desired impressions
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 45

Which of the following is not one of the 'Big 5' personality dimensions?

A	extroversion-introversion
B	agreeableness-hostility
C	halo-rusty halo
D	open to experience-closed to experience
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 46

Dogmatic superiors tend to:

A	reject authority
B	accept subordinates based on how much the subordinates agree with accepted authority
C	alternate between being rigid and flexible
D	use a flexible approach as managers
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 47

Mark the correct definition of empowerment below.

A	the ways in which a person goes about gathering and evaluating information
B	a person’s emphasis on authority
C	the process by which managers delegate power to employees
D	the process by which managers centralize power in organizations
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 48

'The Prince' is the basis of a personality dimension called:

A	dogmatism
B	Machiavellianism
C	authoritarianism
D	extroversion
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 49

The idiographic approach to personality:

A	believes that an individual's personality emerges and develops with experience
B	believes that one should do whatever it takes to get our own way
C	seeks to identify the ways in which an individual's personality varies from others
D	believes that extroversion-introversion is the most important personality dimension
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 50

Which of the following is not an advantage of employing a diverse workforce?

A	diverse perspectives bring creativity and innovation
B	where there is a shortage of skilled labour, diversity has recruitment benefits
C	problems are solved using a wide range of ideas and perspectives
D	in diverse workforces individual are stereotyped
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 51

Value congruence occurs when:

A	individuals express positive feelings on encountering others with similar values
B	individuals express negative feelings on encountering others with similar values
C	an individual experiences a state of inconsistency between their values and behaviour
D	an individual changes their future behaviour to align with their values
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 52

Cognitive dissonance occurs when:

A	an individual experiences a feeling of dissatisfaction with their work
B	an individual experiences a feeling of dissatisfaction with their employer
C	there is a state of consistency between an individual's attitudes and behaviour
D	there is a state of inconsistency between an individual's attitudes and behaviour
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 53

Which of these statements is correct?

A	values are more specific than attitudes
B	attitudes are more positive than values
C	values are less specific than attitudes
D	attitudes are more negative than values
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 54

Meglino's values schema consists of:

A	empathy, helping and concern for others, honesty and fairness
B	achievement, helping and concern for others, honesty and fairness
C	empathy, achievement, honesty and fairness
D	honesty, helping and concern for others, fairness, integrity
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 55

Which of these statements is correct?

A	cultural self-awareness is a pre-requisite for understanding other cultures
B	cultural self-awareness is a hindrance to understanding other cultures
C	cultural self-awareness was a term coined by Rotter
D	cultural self-awareness was a term coined by Machiavelli
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 56

Which of these statements is correct?

A	culture shock does not involve a re-evaluation of core values
B	culture shock necessarily involves re-evaluation of core values
C	culture shock is experienced more by females than by males
D	culture shock is experienced more by males than by females
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 57

What is not part of the performance equation factors?

A	attributes
B	motivation
C	work effort
D	organizational support
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 58

Which of these statements is correct?

A	stereotypes are not always inaccurate
B	stereotypes are always accurate
C	stereotypes are always inaccurate
D	stereotypes are always the result of culture shock
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 59

The nomothetic (traits) approach to personality typically stresses the way of understanding personality that centres on two elements, traits and characteristics. Mark the right alternative presenting the two specific expressions of these two elements below:

A	Nomothetic and Canimethic
B	Psychometric and Charimetric
C	Nomothetic and Charimetric
D	Nomothetic and Psychometric
E	I choose not to answer this question

Question 60

What is Locus of control? Mark the right answer below:

A	The extent to which people feel able to affect their own lives
B	The basic drive for people in social settings
C	The ability to exercise dictatorial power
D	The ability to exercise democratic power
E	I choose not to answer this question